The date your group rate expires. Your guests have until this date, usually four weeks prior to your wedding, to reserve a guest room at your group rate.

Will my guests all be blocked together or near each other?

ATTRITION:

What are attrition fees?

Attrition fees are applied when a group cannot fill at least 80%, or an otherwise agreed upon percentage, of the contracted number of guestrooms. The contract signee is responsible for using a minimum number of sleeping rooms per contract and if those minimums are not met, attrition penalties will apply. Ask your guests to book rooms within "the block", to avoid paying attrition charges. Attrition fees are compensation to the hotel for the rooms that might have been sold had they not been removed from the market by contract. Special Event Weekends—attrition fees are applied when a group cannot fill 100%.
